FIRE IN NATIONAL HOTEL

Blaze of Unknown Origin Caused $1500 Damage In Rear of Building

An alarm from box 16 at the corner of High and Hanover streets at 6:30 this morning called the fire department to the rear of the National Hotel where a lively blaze was confined to a low one story building used as a kitchen and store room.

The fire was in the midst of a lot of wooden buildings and close to the rear of the stable of R. H. Beacham and Son. The fire found its way to blind attic over the kitchen and gave the firemen a lot of hard work before the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Chief Randall ordered hydrant streams from the corner of High and Congress streets and Market and Ladd streets.

Had the building been of greater height, the pressure on the hydrant lines would have been absolutely useless.

Smoke reached the dining rooms

HEARING ON BARGE WRECK

A hearing to determine the cause of the loss o fthe barges Pine Forest, Corbin and Trevorton on Peaked Hill bar Jan. 10 will probably take place on arrival in Boston of the tug Lykens, which sailed from Philadelphia Monday with the three barges for Gloucester and Newburyport. Capt. Hammond of the Lykens, which had the ill-fated barges in tow, will be asked to testify before the local inspectors of steam vessels.

Capt. Carleton of the board of inspection has expressed the opinion, formed by perusal of Capt. Hammond's report, that the barges did not strike the bar until the bitts had pulled out of the Trevorton, which was the head barge.

Shipping interests are again urging their claim, dating back a number of years, that a lightship be stationed off Peaked Hill bar. It is believed that the recent disaster, with loss of 17 lives, may result in favorable action being taken by the lighthouse board.

WHAT WE SAY IS SO

PEARSON IS AGAIN SECRETARY OF STATE

Democrats Make His Election Unanimous---Sixty Bills Introduced.

Concord, Jan. 18.—In the convention for the election of State officers today the democrats had their own way and their nominees were chosen by a large majority.

It happened this way: When the time came, Dr. Morse of Newmarket, who was twelve years ago the opposing candidate when Edward N. Pearson was elected, arose in seat and moved that the clerk cast one vote for Mr. Pearson. Felker of Rochester objected, saying it would be better for some one of the members to cast the vote. Mr. Morse then moved that Mr. Felker (a democrat) cast the vote for Pearson, and the joke raised a hearty laugh in the House. Next came the vote for State treasurer, and Felker moved that Morse cast one vote for Solon A. Carter,—"tit for tat!" and thus another democrat voted for the republican nominee. Then came Frank A. Hardy for Commissary General, and Senator Towle gave to another—a democrat—senator the pleasure of voting for the republican nominee. Then Witcher of Haverhill ,with the preamble that the democrats having elected three candidates, moved that the convention rise—and it rose in a very happy mood.

Sixty bills were introduced in the house of representatives this morning including many sensational measures. One which attracted general attention was presented by Perley of Enfield, and calls for the repeal of the Massachusetts liquor dealers' monopoly law, which was a part of the so-called Preston amendment.

In the House

A big batch of bills went to the fish and game committee. Eastman of Boscawen had radical bills to make Sunday a close day for hunting and fishing, and to take the limit off from cost of trespass by hunters.

Hill of Plaistow had a bill to license trappers at $5 a head and to compel trappers to visit their traps each day as an act of mercy to animls ought. Perley of Enfield had a bill to make the first fifteen days of December an open season on deer in the entire state, which would stop north country hunting in October and November, to limit hunters to one deer each, and to allow the use of the rifle anywhere in the state. Bachon of Somersworth had a bill to change the deer season in the lower part of the state from the first fifteen days in December to the last fifteen days in November. Swan of Keene had a bill in opposition to Mr. Perkins' bill giving justice to resident hunters. His bill provided for an appropriation of $7500 for the expenses of the commission to Aug. 31, the end of the fiscal year.

Among the miscellaneous bills introduced were the following:

By Eastman of Boscawen—To compel dealers in fireworks to take out licenses at $50 each.

This bill is of particular interest in view of the lawsuit over Mrs. Eddy's will. Is provides that where influence is used the will shall be void and the offenders shall be fined $200.

The same genteman introduced a bill requiring moving picture shows to pay $3 license fee for each separate exhibition.

Emery of Auburn—An act providing that motor launches of the value of $100 or more shall be taxed in the town where they are located. At present they are taxed where the owner resides, and Judge Emery is gunning for the Manchester boat owners who keep their boats at Massabesic lake.

Nivan of Manchester—To divide ward 8, Manchester, by taking all that section south of the Piscataqua river for a new ward, calledw ard 11. It provides that the ward officers shall be appointed by the mayor and aldermen and serve from the time of the passage of this bill to the next election, when officers will be elected by the people.

HOME FAT REDUCER

Works Rapidly and Safely—Requires No Exercising and Allows You to Eat What You Like—Cut This Out

For the benefit of those who wish to reduce their flesh quickly and safely, we will give the receipt and directions in full for a simple home-hold remedy that can be obtained at trifling cost from any good drug store. One Half ounce Marmola, 1-2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara aromatic and 3 1-2 ounces Peppermint Water. All three are cheap and wholesome, but you should take care to get an unbroken package so that you get Marmola and not a substitute. When you get home mix the three together by shaking them together and take one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Follow these directions and you will have the best fat reducer that money can buy. It will take off the flesh at the rate of at least two pounds a week without disarranging the stomach or causing wrinkles, while, best of all, no exercising or dieting is required to help it out. You can get results and at the same time take things easy and eat what you like—as much as you like—and when ever you like.

The Scrap Book

An Honest Deal.

In one of our states not many years ago it was a sport and a science in some sections to stuff the ballot boxes so that no matter how the people voted the machine candidates won. In one little town an enthusiast for honest government was named as one of the board of three election judges. His two companions were ready to slip into the ballot box enough votes to elect their man, but they could not get the honest judge to leave the voting booth long enough for them to turn the trick. Finally, after he had refused to leave long enough for lunch, all three went to a neighboring hotel for a hasty meal.

STUFFED THE BOX.

The honest judge, who was also very devout, put the ballot box on the floor between his feet and, shutting his eyes, bowed his head for several minutes while he asked the blessing on the meal.

While he was doing this the other two stuffed the box, and the machine candidates had a staggering majority. And to this day the honest judge advertises the fact that for once he made the election judges give the people of his town an honest deal.—St. Louis Republic.

Laugh a Little Bit.

Here's a motto just your fit—
Laugh a little bit.
When you think you're trouble hit
Laugh a little bit.
Look misfortune in the face,
Brave the beldam's rude grimace,
Ten to one 'twill yield its place
If you have the wit and grit
Just to laugh a little bit.

Cherish this as sacred writ—
Laugh a little bit.
Keep it with you, sample it—
Laugh a little bit.
Little ills will soon be hie you,
Fortune may not sit beside you,
Men may mock and fate deride you
But you'll wind it out a whit
If you laugh a little bit.
—Edmund Vance Cooke

An Obedient Czar.

There is a very prosperous farmer in Belgium, a baron, who is residing temporarily in Washington. The baron, who, if report speaks true, is somewhat henpecked, invited some men to spend night or two ago to play cards in his house. The meeting was a convivial one, and all went "merry as a marriage bell." It grew late, and fears were expressed by the party that they were trespassing upon the kindness of the mistress of the house, who, by the way, was not present.

AND ALL NIGHT.

"Not at all gentlemen, not at all. Play as long as you please. I am easy here," said the master of the mansion.

"Yes, gentlemen, play as long as you please," said a silvery voice, and all rose immediately as the baroness stood before them. "But as it is after o'clock the czar is going to bed." It went.

He Was Sensitive.

The Japanese servant is very sensitive. "A lady friend of mine," says Evelyn Adams in "Behind the Shoji," "possessed a very good manservant a perfect treasure. She happened to be an artist, and every day when she went to paint in the woods this treasure carried her easel. One afternoon he returned without an important piece of it. Though greatly annoyed she said nothing, knowing that her 'pearl' was sensitive to criticism, like most of his race. But the effort at self control was entirely wasted, for the man came next day to give formal notice. 'Why do you wish to leave?' the mistress asked. 'Surely you are not upset over the easel. I said nothing about it, did I?' 'No,' the man admitted, 'but you made a difficult face. And he went before luncheon."

Like His Gun.

A Wyoming cowboy called to see Owen Wister in Philadelphia and was permitted to inspect the author's city outfit. As he casually examined an opera hat it sprang open. "A sod cocking hat," said the cowpuncher admiringly. "Now, don't that beat hell?"—Everybody's.

He Thought of Her.

"It must have been frightful," said Mrs. Bossim to her husband, who was in the earthquake. "Tell me what was your first thought when you awakened in your room at the hotel and heard the alarm."

"My first thought was of you," answered Mr. Bossim.

"How noble!"

"Yes, first thing I knew a vase off the mantel caught me on the ear, then a chair whirled in my direction, and when I jumped to the middle of the room four or five books and a framed picture struck me all at once."

Even after saying that he affected to wonder what made her so angry for the remainder of the evening.—National Monthly.

NO PROOF OF CORRUPTION

Conclusion of the Majority of the Lorimer Committee

TURNING POINT IN CASE

Chairman Burrows Speaks In Defense of Accused Senator—Sees Nothing In Statement of Witnesses Which Would Justify Conclusion That Their Testimony as to Bribery Is True—Senate Court of Ninety-Two Judges

Washington, Jan. 19.—Senator Lorimer of Illinois was defended in the senate by Senator Burrows of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, which had reported to the senate that Lorimer should be entitled to hold his seat in that body, notwithstanding the charges of bribery and corruption in connection with his election by the Illinois legislature.

The speech was important as marking a turning point in this sensational case. Many senators have refrained from stating their position in regard to Lorimer because they have desired that Lorimer's side of the story should be told first. Burrows is the first to tell it. His speech is important also because it must be taken to represent the strongest argument that can be put forward in favor of the junior senator from Illinois.

The Burrows speech is capable of exact comparison with the speeches against Lorimer by Senators Beveridge of Indiana, Crawford of South Dakota and Owen of Oklahoma.

Senator Burrows said that despite the confession of Charles A. White that he received a total of $1900 for voting for Lorimer, in accordance with an agreement with Lee O'Neil Browne, the Democratic leader, he (Burrows) believed that White voted for Lorimer out of "pure friendship" for Browne. Burrows concluded his statement as follows:

"There is absolutely no proof in the case, direct or indirect, from which a legitimate inference could be drawn that a single member of the general assembly was corruptly influenced in vote for Mr. Lorimer."

Senator Burrows reviewed the whole case and cited again much of the evidence which induced the committee to arrive at its conclusions, because of "the criticism passed upon the report of the committee." After summarizing the testimony of witnesses, White, Link, Beckemeyer and Holstlaw, Burrows declared that "it is obvious that there is nothing in the statements of any one of them, or in the statements of all of them taken together, which would justify a conclusion that their testimony as to bribery is true, or could be relied upon in a matter of even minor importance."

In introducing his speech, Burrows reminded the senate that it was a court of ninety-two judges and that no member of that tribunal should "permit his judgment to be warped by public clamor, however boisterous, or private appeals, however potential and commanding."

He then recited the preliminary course of events which led up to the controversey and enumerated cases in the history of the senate where the right of a senator to a seat in the senate had been contested.

"The labors of the committee," said Burrows, "were greatly lightened and the scope of the investigation materially curtailed by the admission of counsel for the prosecution that it was not expected to connect Lorimer with any acts of bribery. With this avowal there was no evidence, submitted to the committee or obtainable so far as known, inculpating Lorimer in the bribery or attempted bribery, if such there was, of any member of the legislature, nor was there any evidence that Lorimer had any knowledge whatever that such bribery or attempted bribery was perpetrated by anyone."

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 19.—Efforts on the part of local steamship lines to communicate by cable with points in Spanish Honduras have been without results.

It is stated that the cable which is on the Pacific coast side has failed. No cable touches the Gulf coast of Spanish Honduras.

It is believed here that the Honduran cable office may have fallen into the hands of the revolutionists.

IMPORTED TEA TO BE FULLY LABELLED

Must Show If There Is Any Artificial Coloring Matter

Washington, Jan. 19.—Tea imported into the United States after May 1, 1911, must be properly labelled to show the presence of artificial coloring or facing matter. This decision has been reached by the treasury department as the result of a recent conference between representatives of the agricultural department, managers of the tea board and customs officers in New York.

Both the treasury and agricultural departments have certain duties with regard to importation of tea under the provisions of the tea inspection act of March 2, 1907, and the food and drugs act, respectively.

The order of the department is the result of co-operation. Such examinations as the department of agriculture desires to make of tea will be made simultaneously with the examination under the tea inspection act

MRS. SCHENK COLLAPSES

Trial For Alleged Poisoning of Husband Temporarily Suspended

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Laura F. Schenk collapsed yesterday under the ordeal of the trial in which she is charged with administering poison to her husband, John O. Schenk. She had to be led to her room in the jail, unable to stand the strain. Court took a recess and the trial was temporarily suspended.

Throughout the trial and since her arrest on Nov. 9, Mrs. Schenk has displayed a calm that has repeatedly been remarked. When apparently damaging testimony was being offered against her, it failed to disturb her beyond a slight exhibition of nervousness.

Nothing of a startling nature had been brought out yesterday, the evidence being somewhat technical, with physicians as the witnesses.

LANDS ON DECK OF A WARSHIP

Ely's Wonderful Performance With Aeroplane

CALLS IT "EASY ENOUGH"

Twelve-Mile Trip From Aviation Field to Cruiser Pennsylvania and Return Accomplished Without Injury to Single Wire or Bolt of Biplane—Circles and Salutes Fleet In San Francisco Bay

San Francisco, Jan. 19.—Eugene B. Ely flew twelve miles in an aeroplane, made a successful landing on the cruiser Pennsylvania, and an hour later arose from the ship and flew back to Selfridge field, twelve miles south of San Francisco.

The feat was accomplished without mishap. Not a wire or bolt of the biplane was injured.

"It was easy enough," said Ely, as he stepped from his seat after his return and was seized by the cheering soldiers of the Thirteenth infantry and hoisted on their shoulders. "I think the trick could be successfully turned nine times out of ten."

It was 10:45 o'clock when Ely left the aviation grounds, swept over the San Bruno hills and disappeared towards San Francisco. Meanwhile the wireless advised the cruiser, at anchor with the fleet in the bay, that he would make the attempt, and final preparations were made for his reception.

A wooden platform 130 feet long and 50 feet wide had been constructed over the after deck of the ship. It slanted gently aft and across the floor were stretched ropes with 100 pound sand bags attached, designed to be caught by hooks on the lower framework of the biplane. As a further precaution a canvas barrier was stretched across the forward end of the platform. Launches and ship's boats fully manned were put out in event of a mishap.

At 10:58 o'clock the lookout on the Pennsylvania sighted Ely, and the ship's siren roared a blast of welcome. He came on at terrific speed, circled around the fleet, dipping in salute to each ship, and came up in the wind for the stern of the Pennsylvania.

He was flying low as he neared the ship, and dropped down lightly, striking the platform. The hooks on the aeroplane caught the ropes and stopped the biplane within sixty feet, although he was going about thirty-five miles an hour, without disarranging any part of the machine.

There was a great outburst of cheers and a rush of officers, visitors and sailors to greet the aviator. Later, Ely was the guest of Captain Pond of the Pennsylvania at luncheon.

Exactly one hour from the time he landed on the cruiser, Ely took his seat in the machine and gave word to let go. The aeroplane went down the 130-foot platform at high speed, dropped off the stern with a gentle dip, and then rose rapidly over the ships in the harbor. The start was as perfect as the landing had been.

Rising to a height of 2000 feet, Ely circled over San Francisco and then headed for the aviation field. He landed there at 12:13 o'clock.

A full company of the Thirteenth infantry swooped down on him as he dismounted and bore him in triumph to Major O'Neill's tent, where an informal reception followed.

Once before Ely sailed in an aeroplane from the deck of a war vessel, the first time that that feat was ever accomplished. Yesterday he landed on the deck of a war vessel and repeated his former achievement of flying into the air again.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND

Indications That British Government Is Preparing a Measure

Dublin, Jan. 19.—That the British government, under pressure of necessity and public sentiment, is preparing a home rule measure for Ireland, is announced in several quarters. Rumors of governmental intent to give Ireland self-government appear to have been based upon definite information.

According to The Independent the government has decided to appoint a commission to investigate Ireland's finances. This would be the first step toward framing a home rule measure, which would be done by a committee of the cabinet.

SACRIFICE LIVES TO DUTY

Men Who Remained on German Submarine Are Suffocated

Kiel, Ger., Jan. 19.—The commander of the German submarine U-3, which sank to the bottom of the harbor Tuesday, and two lieutenants were found dead in the conning tower when the vessel was raised yesterday and the tower opened.

They had sacrificed their lives to duty, having remained on board after the other twenty-seven members of the crew had escaped late Tuesday by crawling through the torpedo tubes.

Word was sent out that the raising had been successful and that the crew were safe. The work continued when suddenly a ventilator gave way, permitting the water to rush into the submarine, isolating the tower and cutting off the oxygen upon which the three officers were dependent. With the inrush of water the bow of the ship rose quickly, but the stern where tower "L" is located sank deeper.

Recognizing the peril of the officers, the rescuers worked desperately to reach them, but it was sixteen hours before an entrance to the tower could be forced. Long before that time the men had died of suffocation.

CONVICTED OF SLANDER

Costs Lord West $6250 For Talking About His Daughter-In-Law

London, Jan. 19.—Sir Algernon West, K. C. B., formerly confidential secretary and intimate friend of Gladstone and an official of the highest distinction, was sentenced to pay an award of $6250 to his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Horace West, in her suit against him for slander.

Mrs. West alleged that Sir Algernon had told a number of society people that her separation from his son had been brought by her extravagance, thereby, as she claimed, damaging her social position, whereas in reality, she alleged, the separation was due to her husband's misconduct.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR TWENTY-FOUR

Prison Terms For Two Others For Plot Against Japan

Tokio, Jan. 19.—Twenty-five men and one woman, charged with conspiracy against the throne and with plotting to assassinate the crown prince and high officials of the empire, were publicly sentenced by the supreme court.

Twenty-four of the prisoners, including Denjiro Kotoku, who once lived in America, and his wife were condemned to death. The other two were sent to prison, one for eleven years and the other for eight years.

The trial had been secret, but the final dramatic scene was witnessed by the diplomats and many prominent Japanese. When sentence had been pronounced one of the doomed men rose and shouted "Banzai." At this all of the prisoners sprang to their feet, and Kotoku, raising his hands above his head, cried: "Long live anarchy." The prisoners then turned quietly to their guardians and were again handcuffed and led away.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE

Finding of Coroner's Jury In Case of London Desperadoes

London, Jan. 19.—At the conclusion of the inquest on the death of the two desperadoes who perished in their Sidney street home while resisting the police and military, the verdict of the jury was that the man known as "Josef" was shot to death, the victim of justifiable homicide, and that his companion, known as "Fritz," died of suffocation.

The jury added a rider declaring that the fact that such an extraordinary occurrence was possible should lead to the framing of more stringent measures for dealing with criminal aliens arriving in this country.

SAVED BY HUMAN CHAIN

Two Owe Their Lives to Presence of Mind of Young People

Patchogue, L. I., Jan. 19.—By forming a human chain of fifteen links, a band of boys and girls saved Ethlyn Philips and Edward Smith from drowning in Lake Patchogue. The two broke through the ice while skating, and their companions, lying head to heel on the ice and grasping each other by the ankles, reached nearly to the edge of the open spot.

The last boy pushed out a hockey stick, Smith grasped it in one hand, and hauling Miss Philips after him with the other, was pulled to safety.

WILL RETURN TO THE SENATE

Lodge Begins His Fourth Term on March 4

RECEIVES TOTAL OF 146

Two Democratic Senators Swing Into the Lodge Column—Has Six Votes More Than Necessary and Thirteen Over All Other Candidates—Republicans Who Previously Voted Against Him Get Into Line

Boston, Jan., 19.—Henry Cabot Lodge of Nahant was re-elected United States senator from Massachusetts, for the six years beginning March 4, 1911, he having received six more than a constitutional majority of all the votes cast in a joint convention of the senate and the house, and a majority of thirteen votes over all other candidates, a majority of the members of both branches being present and voting. The vote was as follows:

Henry Cabot Lodge	146
Sherman L. Whipple	121
Butler Ames	7
A. L. Lowell	2
John R. Thayer	1
Sylvester J. McBride	1
Curtis Guild	1
Total cast	279
Necessary for a choice	140

Mr. Lodge had enough Republican votes, 142—in fact, four more than the number necessary—to elect him. The two Democratic votes which he received were given him by Senators Curley of the Eighth Suffolk district and Murray of the ninth Suffolk district. Representative McInerney of Boston, Democrat, was the only man not recorded out of the total membership of both branches of 280. McInerney was not recorded Tuesday. He has been accused of being a Lodge Democrat and has been pilloried for weeks in the anti-Lodge press. McInerney was present, but did not respond when the clerk called his name Wednesday.

Butler Ames of Lowell, who received eight votes Tuesday, when each branch voted separately—two senators and six representatives—yesterday fell off to seven votes. Representative Kilpatrick of Lowell, Congressman Ames' own city, left him, and voted for Lodge.

Speaker Walker's repeated requests, and especially his letter addressed to each of the four representatives who voted for him Tuesday afternoon requesting them not to vote for him Wednesday, proved effective.

Senator Curley of Boston was the first Democrat to break away from his party. When he arose in his seat and said: "Mr. President, I vote for Henry Cabot Lodge of Nahant," there was a rustle of excitement and a happy smile on the faces of the Lodge men. When Senator Murray of Boston followed suit, later on the rollcall, the satisfaction of the senior senator's friends deepened.

No Republicans who voted for Lodge Tuesday failed to do so Wednesday, while Representative Arkwell of Worcester and Greenwood of Everett, Republicans, joined in making up his total.

When President Treadway had announced the vote, he made this proclamation:

"Henry Cabot Lodge of Nahant, having received a majority of all the votes of the joint assembly, a majority of all the members elected to both houses being present and voting, I declare him elected United States senator to represent the State of Massachusetts in the senate of the United States for the term of six years from the fourth day of March."

Then the long-restrained applause broke loose and there was cheering on the floor and in the galleries, which were packed, even to the press gallery, with interested spectators.

LIPPITT IS ELECTED

Succeeds Aldrich as United States Senator From Rhode Island

Providence, Jan. 19.—Henry F. Lippitt of Providence, Rep., was elected United States senator from Rhode Island to succeed Nelson W. Aldrich.

On the joint ballot of the two branches of the legislature he received a majority of five votes over the combined votes of his opponents, Lebaron B. Colt, Rep., and Arthur L. Brown, Dem. The vote was:

Members present and voting, 139; necessary for choice, 70; Lippitt, 72; Brown, 44; Colt, 23. Lippitt gained one vote over Tuesday's balloting in separate session.

Sheehan Fails of Election

Albany, Jan. 19. The legislative insurgents stood firm and maintained the deadlock prevailing over the election of a successor to Chauncey M. Depew.

William F. Sheehan, the Tammany candidate against whom the insurgents are holding out, lost one vote in the joint ballot of the senate and assembly. He received only ninety votes yesterday. Tuesday he received ninety-one. Ninety-nine votes are necessary to elect.

ENFORCEMENT BOARD OUT

Maine Drink Law Receives a Jolt at Hands of Governor

Augusta, Me., Jan. 19.—Governor Plaisted last night issued letters removing Andrew Harvey, Henry W. Oakes and George M. Phoenix from office as enforcement commissioners. Thus Maine's famous Sturgis law, providing for the enforcement of the prohibitory law by state deputies in counties where county officials have been derelict in their duties, becomes inoperative so far as this administration is concerned.

A bill is pending in the legislature, which provides for the repeal of the law itself.

The Sturgis commission, so-called, was created by act of the legislature in 1905 and has operated in nearly every county in the state, one time or another.

During the last eighteen months the expense of the commission has been put upon the counties, some of which have refused to pay and the matter is still in abeyance, with the possibility that it may be carried to the United States supreme court.

UNCLE JOE'S "HOUR GLASS"

It Warns Long Talkers When Their Time Limit Has Expired

Washington, Jan. 19.—A new piece of apparatus adorns the desk of Speaker Cannon. It is a double barrelled hour glass, designed to help members in obeying the most trying of all rules, that limiting debate to five minutes. The glass is timed to run the sand through in five minutes. A white background makes the sand-glass visible from a considerable distance.

Under the five minute rule of debate members often reach the most important part of their arguments when the chairman's gavel mercilessly cuts them down. The new apparatus is intended to give due warning in time to avoid the five minute gun.

200,000 OPERATIVES WILL BE AFFECTED

Plan to Cut Cotton Cloth Production In New England

Boston, Jan. 19.—Millions of spindles in the cotton mills of the United States will be idle one-quarter of the time from yesterday until the market conditions improve, if a recommendation made yesterday afternoon by the Arkwright club at a meeting in this city is accepted generally.

The Arkwright club is an organization of the treasurers of mills in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine, many of which have their head offices in Boston, and represents more than 10,000,000 spindles. Of the 28,000,000 spindles in the United States 15,000,000 are in New England. The mills of New England employ nearly 200,000.

The cotton mills of the country curtailed extensively last year because of the high cost of cotton and an indifferent demand for goods. The same reasons are given by the Boston treasurers for their vote yesterday.

DESTROY DISCARDED ARMS

Proposition to Keep Them Out of Hands of Central American Rebels

Washington, Jan. 19.—How to stop the purchase of discarded American firearms by Central American countries involved in insurrections was the problem submitted to congress by Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, who suggested that the government destroy its discarded arms instead of selling them by auction.

Chairman Hull of the military affairs committee said that such action would do no good; that the insurrectionists who wanted arms would get them from some other country or from the manufacturers. "It is better for them to have our obsolete and discarded firearms than to be armed as well as we are," said Hull.

Water Famine In Cuba

Santiago, Cuba, Jan. 19. A water famine is causing serious distress in Santiago. The recently constructed reservoir has proved a failure in supplying sufficient water for the needs of the people, and as this was built under American supervision, it has come in for much criticism.

Boston, Jan. 19.—Just as the curtain was about to rise at a church entertainment in Dahlgren hall, South Boston, last evening, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Brine, 55, wife of Robert S. Brine, president of the Brine Transportation company, was taken suddenly ill and was dead within ten minutes.

QUOTATIONS FROM FAMOUS AUTHORS

Others shall sing the song,
Others shall right the wrong,
Finish what I begin,
And all I fail of win.
—From "My Triumph," by Whittier.

A SEAMAN'S STRIKE

The results of a world wide strike of seamen probably have not been contemplated by many people. Indeed they would be so far-reaching that the average imagination could hardly grasp their significance until stimulated by more imminent danger of such a vast calamity. That such a move is impending is moreover probably not generally realized.

The decision to strike is, however, no new thing, but is the fruit of many months of ceaseless agitation in England and on the continent of Europe.

Now the British seamen's trades union has announced its intention to precipitate a general strike in the shipping world in May as a declaration of war against the International Shipping Federation and undoubtedly the expectation that the Atlantic coast Seamen's Union and its affiliated associations of the longshoremen, etc, will cooperate in the British movement is based upon something more definite than hope.

That the seamen have grievances need not be doubted. Their life is a hard one, and the conditions under which they must labor not only expose them to many sorts of oppression, but make the redress of just grievances very difficult.

Notwithstanding the merits of the questions in controversy, a struggle of the magnitude that is threatened would mean a serious disturbance of the world's trade. The outcome of the struggle would be a loss far more serious than any possible gain to be secured by it, either by the seamen or their employers, and it is very desirable for the welfare of both sides participating in the dispute that it be sidetracked before the date set for tying up the world's ocean commerce.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

Senator Aldrich, in poor health, is off for Jekyl Island to hyde from the rigors of public life.

Cannon has a fine sense of humor. "Whatever New England wants I do hope will be granted," he says.

We wish Nova Scotia joy of at least two emigrants from this country, Hattie LeBlanc and Margaret Taylor.

The third word in that headline "Two Shot in 'Beer Raid'" was no doubt a misprint for "deer," occurring as it did in prohibition Maine.

A lawyer caught begging on the streets of Baltimore makes plea that he has a double personality, and that it is his other self that is at fault. Now watch out; the next merchant you meet on the street may be some legal light's better half.

The Swiss government is fortunate. Out of an expected deficit of $357,000 this year, none of it can be ascribed by dissenters to the maintenance of a needless navy.

Henry Cabot Lodge is to be congratulated on his deserved victory and the people of Massachusetts likewise on the fruits of their resentment at Foss' attempt to be dictator.

Those little birds seen by her husband in his waking hours at night, mentioned by Mrs. Harriet Sloane of Charlestown in her testimony in the divorce session, were certainly not doves.

Aviator MacCurdy says he will fly from Key West to Havana. The experiences of his fellows evidently have not taught him the inadvisability of counting birdmen before they are scratched.

In reducing the salary of the new president of the United States Steel corporation the directors perhaps wish to see if his temper is such as would be expected from one in such a hard position.

That old down East skipper whose only discomfort on a tumultuous trip to Boston was inability to keep his tobacco dry is of the kind needed to rejuvenate our tottering fleet of small coastwise carriers.

Almost daily come stories of hairbreadth escapes of barges from destruction in winter gales along the coast, each case adding to the already strong evidence that restrictions should be placed upon the barge traffic.

A Boston lawyer who disappeared with another man's wife last October has been removed as receiver of a fraternal beneficiary association by the supreme court, which looks from this distance like a somewhat unnecessary proceeding.

From the trunk of a giant tree felled in Pennsylvania, we are told that eleven hundred and three wagon spokes were taken. We may be sorry we spoke, but in our study of natural history we fail to recollect such a species.

Readers of this paper who are perchance interested in the high cost of living will be glad to hear that Mayor Fitzgerald will ask the district attorney to investigate prices of flour and coal in Boston to see if there is a conspiracy to keep up prices. The city recently purchased flour at $4.83 per barrel which retails at $7.50 and bought coal at $5.50, while the retail price is much higher, and the mayor has become convinced that such disparity warrants investigation.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case With Many Portsmouth People

Too many Portsmouth citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Portsmouth evidence?

Clinton R. Hurd 136 Hill Street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidney complaint and suffered terribly from backache. It was almost impossible for me to do any work when the trouble was at its height and I always felt tired. The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Fickbrick's Drug Store, relieved me and soon corrected all the difficulties arising from disorderly kidneys. During the time that has lapsed I have been asked scores of times about Doan's Kidney Pills and I have always been pleased to tell of the great benefits derived from this remedy. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly."

A TIMELY TOPIC

—BY—

EVERETT W. BURDETT,
A Leading Lawyer of Boston.

Where the Need of Reform is,

CORPORATIONS are merely convenient forms for uniting individual efforts and private capital. They are performing services for the public at large which individuals could not so well perform.

It cannot, I think, be said that the contact of all corporations with politics is improper, or that the contact of a single corporation or class of corporations with all kinds of politics is improper.

It is not the corporations that need to be reformed, but the politics of American cities. If there are no politics, then there can be no relations of corporations with them. And such is the condition of things abroad.

My own personal view is that reform should start at the root of the difficulty, the voting list, although this may be impossible. When one realizes that in the city of Boston there is a voting list of practically 120,000 and that of this entire number not over 17,000 or 18,000 pay any taxes whatever, and that the same condition prevails in a smaller or larger degree in other American cities, one realizes how difficult a task lies before us.

Let us not spend all our energies in attempting reform at the wrong end. Curb and control and regulate your corporations as you will, and by this means effect such improvement as you can, but have in mind the ultimate necessity of beginning at the other end and reforming the governments and the officials with which the corporations are necessarily brought in contact.

Mr. Gardner's supporters was averted by the placating of Mr. Gardner with the offer of the State assessorship. This made plain sailing and the election of Charles F. Johnson goes through according to program. Hushed are the voices of detraction that accuse him of being a corporation attorney and friend of the special interests and therefore unfit to represent the Democratic party. The voices are hushed, but there may be thinking going on underneath.

If the Democrats in other states where they have control of the legislature had as little trouble in their Senatorial elections as the Maine brethren, they would feel relieved, but they have not. In several of the States they are experiencing a good deal of trouble. Take New York, where the candidacy of William F. Sheehan is meeting with strong opposition and seems likely to cause a deadlock. There are 201 members of the legislature, including both branches, so that in joint session 101 votes are required for a majority. No withe Democrats have 114 members of the legislature, 29 Senators and 85 Assemblymen, the Republicans have 21 in the Senate and 63 in the House, and there is beside one Independent Democrat and two Independent Lague men. But when the Democrats undertook to caucus for Senator, 25 of their number refused to go in. They flatly rebelled against the order of Boss Murphy of Tammany, who is on the ground in Albany directing affairs as the boss of the whole state. Murphy who is against Shepard and for Sheehan for Senator had issued an edict that all Democrats should go into caucus and abide by the result. There are 25, however, who do not bow the knee to Murphy. The rest went into caucus like good boys, and the result was that Sheehan carried it by 63, while Shepard was a bad second at 21 and our old friend, D-Cady Herrick, had eight votes. This with the absentees makes a total of 117, or three more than the Democrats are credited with, which indicates either the participancy of some of the non-Democrats or an error in the figures, or possibly that somebody cast more votes than he was entitled to. At all events, but 92 out of a possible 114 appears to have entered the caucus and to be bound by its action. That is nine short of a majority, and the problem for Murphy and Sheehan is to get those nine. It is not probable that any of the 25 will be won over, and the prospect of a stubborn deadlock unless there is agreement on a compromise candidate.

Sheehan at any rate seems an impossibility. His candidancy has already split the party. He was one of the head machinists of the old Hill machine and was once elected lieutenant governor; but in the revolt against the machine twenty years ago he was driven from politics and went to Buffalo, where he has since practised law until the whirligig of politics has brought him to the front again. He is at least one respectable advocate in Judge Parker, an old friend and former law partner, who pleads that Sheehan has reformed, denies that he would serve the beneficiaries of privilege and claims that he is free from alliances that would hinder his usefulness to the people. But the people the democratic people, a good many of them are skeptical about the leopard having changed his spots.

But the New York deadlock is not the only one. Another is impending in New Jersey between the supporters of Smith and Martine respectively. There is a third in Tennessee, and a fourth in Montana. And more are on the way. — Portland Press.

QUININE DOESN'T CURE BAD COLDS

How To End a Cold or Grippe In Few Hours

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all Grippe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

SPARE THE OLD THINGS.

A Plea For the Preservation of Keepsakes and Sentiment.

Most everything is being sacrificed nowadays to the spirit of practicability. Old love letters are destroyed because desk room is needed. The spreading oak that marked for decades the turn of the road is sacrificed to give room to a modern electric sign that tells the same story. The baby's first pair of shoes, wee, dainty and soft as they are, are thrown in the trash pile that there may be room in the top drawer for the powder box.

All of this destruction of "auld lang syne" sentiment and the basis of reminiscence is chuck full of wrong. The most interesting place in or near Washington is Mount Vernon. The most magnificent square in Philadelphia is Independence hall. The most valuable spot in Texas is the old Alamo at San Antonio. Such places as these contain the story of American history, and the citizen who views and thinks while viewing—and no one can view without thinking—becomes instantly a patriot, likewise a better husband and a better father.

Keep the old love tokens. Don't destroy the "old gray bonnets." Treasure the little shoes. Save youth's love letters. And we may not have as much room, but we will have more sweetness, and there will be more heart in the world.—Wichita Beacon.

IN A RAILWAY SMASHUP.

The Proper Thing to Do If You Have Time Enough.

If you were a passenger on a railroad train that collided with another, jumped the track, ran into an open switch or fell a victim to any of the other misfortunes that railroad trains are heir to, what would you do or what do you think you would do?

A writer in an engineering journal, after describing from his personal observation what most passengers do in such times of stress and peril—that is, "stand up and howl"—gives what he calls sound advice, which is simply "to drop upon the floor, preferably in the aisle, or cling to the seat frame."

That advice is not only sound, but simple. The trouble, however, is that not one person in ten can tell with any degree of certainty to what extent the same kind of mental demoralization that causes the volunteer fireman to throw mirrors out of the window and tenderly carry feather beds downstairs would possess him in such an emergency. The man who believes with absolute conviction that he would remain calm, cool and collected under all circumstances may be the very man who would make a mental aviation flight that would cause the records of the champion aeronauts to pale into insignificance.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Facts About Animal Structure.

The complexity of animal structure is marvelous. A caterpillar contains more than 2,000 muscles. In a human body are some 2,000,000 perspiration glands, communicating with the surface by ducts, having a total length of some ten miles, while that of the arteries, veins and capillaries must be very great. The blood contains millions of corpuscles, each a structure in itself. The rods in the retina, which are supposed to be the ultimate recipients of light, are estimated at 30,000,000, and Meinert has calculated that the gray matter of the brain is built of at least 600,000,000 cells.

The Joined Fragments.

Waiter—What will you have, sir?

Customer (looking over the restaurant bill of fare)—Permit me to cogitate. In the correlation of forces it is a recognized property of atomic fragments, whatever their age, to join, and—

Waiter (shouts across the hall)—Hash for one!—London Tit-Bits.

EXETER

Exeter, Jan. 19

Lewis R. Smith, in police court Wednesday morning, was charged with attempting to take the life of his wife last evening, and he told the court that he threw her down and beat her and also bailed a station at her. because she would not consent to resume domestic relations with him. He admitted that he was jealous of her, but said that he loved her, and was willing to give up his child if she would come and live with him. It was the culmination of a series of domestic troubles. Smith appeared to be a quiet fellow, and one who had apparently tasted the adversities of life to such an extent that his courage had left him. His wife stated that she was afraid he would do her bodily harm, and the court thought it necessary to protect her. He was placed placed under $200 to keep the peace, but as he could not produce bondsment, he was committed to jail temporarily, while the authorities will try to adjust the matter.

The police were Wednesday notified to watch for a boy of 15 years of age, who ran away from his home in Methuen, Mass., and it is said that he is on his way to Exeter. He wears a dark brown suit, gray sweater and a light gray cap. It is said that he was last seen in Haverhill, Mass., and was on his way to this town, where he is to try to obtain work. It appears that the scholastic town has an allurement for the youth in some way as he is taking all and any methods of coming here.

At the Congregational church in Hampton, Wednesday evening, the Rev. C. H. Stockdale of Boston delivered a most interesting lecture, under the auspices of the Woman's Monday club of that town. His subject was "Shall the Corners of the Mouth Turn Upwards or Downwards?"

The Rev. Minot O. Simons of Cleveland, Ohio, and the Rev. William Chauncey Brown of Boston are to speak at the Unitarian church on Friday evening. There will be music and light refreshments.

SUPERIOR COURT

The opening case to be put on trial in superior court Wednesday morning at Exeter was the action of Ralph E. Meras of Exeter against Aurthur A. Burnap of Brentwood, a case of alleged fraud in a horse trade. Mr. Meras, the plaintiff, on Jan. 28, 1908 bought of the defendant, Mr. Burnap, a pair of horses for which he paid $300 and which the defendant allaged to be sound and in good condition for heavy work.

A short time after the trade, the plaintiff, who is a furniture dealer here started for a drive from Exeter to Lynn, Mass., and after proceeding a short distance, claims that he soon discovered that they were windbroke and not of sound condition as represented. One of them died a few days after the trade.

Te defense alleges that it was stated to the purchaser that they were windbroke, but it was made clear that this did not incapacitate them for heavy work, and when it was learned that one of them was dead, the seller offered to take the other on back, and allow what was paid for it.

The attorneys engaged are John L. Mitchell and Ernest L. Guptill, both of Portsmouth, for the plaintiff, and Eastman, Scammon and Gardner of Exeter for the defendant. The foreman of the jury was Benjamin Brierly of Stratham, and the panel consists of Williams A. Young of Exeter, John Badger of Plaistow, Willard K. Tozier of Exeter, Frank M Colby of Londonderry, William F. Neal of Derry, James S. Nay of Exeter, Maurice N. Griffin of Newmarket, Amos L. Proctor of Derry, Story A. Smith of Auburn, Hiness Beede of Fremont and Charles L. Smith of Portsmouth.

The plaintiff claims damage of $5[illegible].

ARCANUM GIVES ANNUAL BALL

Dover Council With Grand Officers were Guests of the Local Body

The sixth annual ladies' night and grand ball of Alpha council, No. 82, Royal Arcanum, held at Freeman's hall, on Wednesday evening, was undoubtedly the greatest social event of the season, and it was if anything a greater success than those of former years, which created for the council the reputation of being one of the most progressive orders as well as best entertainers in this section.

There was the usual lodge attendance, for while it was strictly invitation, there are over three hundred members of the council and with their friends it made up a large party, which was augmented by the members of the Major Waldron council of Dover, who were as in the past, the special guests of the local council. They came down by special train accompanied by Grand Regent I. E. Ewer of the state, who resides in Dover and a member of that council.

Other grand officers noticed were Grand Vice Regent Frank E. Leavitt of this city, Grand Treasurer A. J. Weeks of Exeter, Grand Chaplain E. D. Weeks of Dover and Grand Medical Examiner Dr. F. S. Towle and Grand Past Regent Harry B. Yeaton of this city.

It was a very dressy party, the ladies appearing in elaborate costumes and the gentlemen in dress suits. The hall had but a simple decoration of palms and ferns about the orchestra stand.

The Stewartson's orchestra of Concord, N. H., rendered an excellent concert program from 8 to 8.30, and they furnished music for the dancing, which followed, making a decided hit with their novelties.

The concert program was as follows:

Overture, "The Three Clerks"..... .....Domergue
Violin Solo, "Muzur".....Demurth
Mr. Raymond Stewartson.
Morceau Characteristic, "Cupid Jr."... .....Wilder
Tenor Solo, "The Door of Hope".... .....Arr. by Jerome
Mr. B. J. Hariott.
Selection from the Opera "Martha".. .....Floto

The dancing was continued until one o'clock and when the last waltz was heard with regret and the social annual ball of the Royal [illegible] became but a pleasant memory.

A Wonderful Dirt-Starter

SUNNY MONDAY Laundry Soap is kind to the clothes because it contains a marvelous dirt-starting ingredient which drives out the dirt in an all but magical way—saves most of the rubbing and saves your clothes.

mouth college was transferred from appropriation to education.

The house adjourned at 1? o'clock on motion of Sibley of Manchester.

The speaker called to order at 3 o'clock.

A message from the senate was received.

The following bills passed:

No. 61—Act to amend an act relating to devises by will.

No. 47—Act to amend chapter 92, public statutes, relating to the examination and certification of cadets.

No. 29—Act to amend an act of 1864 to incorporate the New Hampshire Universalist convention.

No. 73—Act to amend act relating to the Baptist association of New Hampshire.

The house concurred in the senate amendment to the bill relating to the soldiers' monument at Littleton.

Emery of Auburn moved to reconsider the vote of inexpedient upon bill 49 to amend an act relative to raising money by towns for free land concerns. He said the report made as of the committee this morning was a mistake. Lost, viva voce.

On motion of Mr. Pillsbury of Londonderry, the special committee appointed to investigate railroad rates was authorized to take testimony of witnesses, employ counsel, experts and stenographers. The committee has been given the general committee room on the main floor of the capital to use whenever they desire it for their hearings.

On motion of Proctor of Alton, the resolution making a free gift of $10,000 to Dartmouth college, without asking a scholarship in return, was referred to the committee on appropriations. When introduced last week, without first going to any other committee, it was withdrawn from the appropriations committee and referred to the committee on education.

The resolution to investigate the erection of a state normal school in Portsmouth was passed by the house this afternoon without an amendment.

The committee on elections has not yet finished with the Rochester election case, which occupied their attention many hours yesterday. They will next recount the vote cast.

In the senate the bill favoring the bill now in Congress providing for the retirement of the life saving service men, was passed without any discussion.

On motion of French of Moultonborough, the bill was recommitted.

Leave of absence was granted Towne of Nelson.

The house adjourned at 3.20 o'clock on motion of Keeler of Concord.

In the Senate

The senate was called to order at 11 o'clock.

The following bills were read and referred:

By Senator Pender: Act to amend the charter of the Rockingham Power and Light company of Portsmouth. To judiciary committee.

By Senator Pender: Act to award the charter of North church of Portsmouth. To incorporations.

Senator Doe: Act in relation to assignment for trial of persons charged with murder in either degree. To judiciary.

By Senator Hosford: Act relating to injunction. To judiciary.

Senator Lucier: Act relating to courts and their officers. To revision of laws.

Senator Goodnow gave notice of a bill: Act to incorporate the Fidelity Trust company.

The committee on public health reported favorably senate bill, No. 4. Tabled to be presented.

A joint resolution relating to the life saving service was read twice. To military affairs.

On motion of Senator Lucier the senate took a recess until 11.55 o'clock.

The senate came in for the joint convention promptly at 12 o'clock. On motion of French of Moultonborough it was voted to proceed to elect a secretary of state by ballot.

Clark of Haverhill and Cutter of Jaffrey were named as tellers.

Morse of Newmarket moved that the clerk of the convention be instructed to cast one ballot for Edward N. Pearson for secretary of state.

Felker of Rochester inquired if it would not be more pertinent for some member to be instructed to cast the ballot.

On motion of Mr. Morse, Mr. Felker was so instructed and Mr. Pearson was declared duly elected.

On motion of Curtis of Concord, Morse of Newmarket was instructed to cast one ballot for Solon A. Carter of Concord for state treasurer and he was declared duly elected.

Frank A. Hardy of Derry was chosen commissary general in similar manner, the vote being cast by Senator Dee on motion of Senator Hayden.

On motion of Senator Boutwell, Senator Senator Boutwell, Durgin of Rochester and Hadley of Dunbarton were appointed a committee of notification.

The convention arose at 12.15 o'clock, on motion of Elwell of Exeter, replacing his motion with the statement that "the Democratic party having elected a secretary of state treasurer and commissary general."

The senate was called to order at 2.35 o'clock.

The following were read the third time:

House bill, No. 14—Act relating to soldiers' and sailors' monument in the town of Littleton. Passed.

House joint resolution endorsing United States senate bill 5677, relating to the life saving service. Passed.

The rules were amended by striking out rule 35 and substituting the following: "Each bill and joint resolution, except private acts, originating in the senate shall be declared by the president to be laid upon the table, to be printed before being delivered to committee.

"Every bill and joint resolution appropriating money which has been favorably reported by any other committee, shall be recommitted to the committee on finance."

On motion of Senator Chapman the senate adjourned at 2.40.

Legislative Notes

Newspaper men are about as much in evidence as usual under the dome this winter. Hon. George H. Turner of the Governor's council is one of the directors of the company which publishes the Littleton Courier and Colonel John Pender of the State senate used to publish the Portsmouth Post since amalgamated with the E. W. Hartford papers in that city. Secretary of State Pearson and Deputy Secretary Willis are Monitor office graduates and Adjutant General Gilley used to report legislative proceedings for the Manchester Mirror.

If Mr. Pillsbury should call the roll of present and past Union employees in the house he would make quite a showing. Welch of Franklin is at the head of the Union bureau in that city and Assistant clerk Carey is the Union correspondent in Newport. Cox of Manchester used to be in advertising manager and Conners of Mount Vernon was at one time connected with that department. Curtis and Keeler of Concord have both sent Capital city news to the Union in the past though neither is now connected with the paper. Curtis is the well-known "Skirmishers" of the Concord Patriot and Keeler gets material in his legislative seat for a column a day in the Boston Globe.

Besides Messrs. Keeler, Brewster and Whitcher, who writes letters to the Boston Advertiser as well as to his own paper, Judge Davis of Winchester furnishes most entertaining legislative "copy" to the Star of his town, and it is more than suspected that O'Neill of Walpole writes some of the straight from the shoulder editorials which appear in the Cheshire Republican, Keene, of which he is part owner. Stoddard of Portsmouth is an ex-newspaper reporter and they do say that Fellows of Portsmouth contributes more "good stuff" to the columns of that city than some of their salaried employees. Noyes of Lancaster and Lamb of Manchester are writers whose works appears in more permanent form than that of newspaper publication.

On the other hand the men in Newspaper Row, particularly the Democrats, are not without political experience. Henry M. Metcalfe of the Portsmouth Times was a candidate of his party for congress in the Second District last fall and if he had $1000 for every other time his name appeared upon a ballot would be very wealthy man. George W. Fowler of the Union has led a good many Democratic forlorn hopes, but last fall refused to listen to the suggestion of friends that he dun for representative. And then the Democrats carried the town high and dry! A. Chester Clark of the Nashua Telegraph was for several years a member of the Democratic state committe. And the list might be lengthened.

More state newspapers have special correspondence from the legislature at this session than in any previous year. Of course all the papers in the state publish more or less news about the doings under the dome, but the following have regular reports from special representatives at the capitol: Concord Monitor, Concord Patriot, Manchester Union, Manchester Mirror, Nashua Telegraph, Keene Sentinel, Portsmouth Times, Portsmouth Chronicle and Herald, Exeter News-Letter, Farmington News, Conway Reporter, Granite State News of Wolfeboro, Carroll County Pioneer of Sanbornville, Laconia News and Critic, Franklin Journal-Transcript, Milford Cabinet, Cheshire Republican, Newport Argus, Newport Champion, Littleton Courier, White Mountain Republic-Journal, Bristol Enterprise, Plymouth Record, Winchester Star, Lancaster Gazette, Gorham Mountaineer, Woodsville News and Berlin Reporter.

THE MOTOR BOAT SHOW

Weeks ago the enthusiasm shown by trade and the public in regard to the Boston Motor Boat show to be held in Mechanics Building the week of Jan. 28th to Feb. 24th, brought forth from the New England Engine and Boat association headquarters the statement that the 1911 show would be even more successful from every standpoint than the exhibitions held in Boston under the auspices of that association in former years. Results have verified that forcast, and Manager Chester I. Campbell now announces that practically all available exhibit space has been spoken for since the first of the year, and that the special exhibition of racing crafts for which arrangements have been made have received so much publicity and aroused so much interest that the only difficulty will be to give all those desiring a chance to exhibit their goods, locations that will be satisfactory to them and at the same time in no way reduce the big aisles that are necessary to handle the immense crowds of visitors that will attend the show.

The management is in correspondence with the owner of the well known Gregoire VIII, and every endeavor will be made to have that craft shipped from Montreal for exhibition here. The Gregoire VIII is the winner of the international race at Monaco, France last year outclassing every cruiser in her class by far. "Brier Fox II" will be shipped from Newport, Kentucky, for the Boston show, and a special representative is even now scouring New York city and Philadelphia in an endeavor to secure several other unique and interesting exhibits.

While Boston has gained much repute for its tastefully decorated trade exhibitions each year, the Motor Boat Show this month will well be worth while seeing for the decorations alone. The usual fine music and other high class entertainment will be presented for the benefit of the visiting public.

Shoemakers to a Hundred Million People

The wonderful Goodyear welting system of shoe machinery first made it possible for the feet of the millions to be clad in high grade shoes at moderate prices.

Less than a generation ago high grade shoes made by shoemakers cost $10 to $20 a pair.

Only wealthy people could afford to wear them.

But today, everybody can wear dressier, better and more comfortable shoes at one-third these prices. And you who are accustomed to wearing these modern shoes, would never think of going back to these ancient hand-made styles.

GOODYEAR WELT

is the Name of a Method of Making Shoes

Sixty different machines are involved. Each has a highly specialized task in the making of a shoe.

Yet these machines are not automatic.

Beside this number of skilled operators are required to run them.

They can not turn leather into shoes unassisted. Steel fingers help human fingers in wonderfully dexterous ways.

They do their work more smoothly and uniformly than could human fingers alone.

The inside of the shoe is left smooth and free from seams. Comfort is assured.

There are fully 500 different trade-marked shoes made with this welt.

When you go to your retailer ask for "Goodyear Welt" Shoes. He should have them in stock.

But the safest way is to write us for a list of all "Goodyear Welts." Do this before you buy your next pair of shoes. It will pay you. Tear out this advertisement. Write your name and address across it. Mail to us NOW.

Your inquiry brings a booklet illustrating and describing these sixty wonderful machines, and also our booklet, "The Secret of a Shoe—An Industry Transformed," which tells the true story of a great American achievement.

The Beautiful Hair of English Woman

(Annie Bly in N. Y. Graphic)

The long, abundant and glossy tresses of English women are not due to hair tonics and heroic shampooing. There is a general belief over there that the less water put on the hair, the better it is; they say wetting "takes the life out" and leaves the hair dull, brittle and colorless.

English women with hair rich in color, clean and wholesome—and plenty of it—have told me they attribute it to dry shampooing two or three times a week. They mix four ounces of thereox with four ounces of orris root and sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. They thus also avoid the danger of catching cold and the discomfort that accompanies washing, rinsing and drying the hair.

This treatment keeps the hair light fluffy and lustrous, and is the only thing I know that will actually produce the growth of hair.

Included in our special offerings for Thursday are 400 yards Silk Samples.

These are in lengths of 38 to 40 inches in Plain Colors and Figured Foulards.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Sheehan Opera Co.

Joseph F. Sheehan, America's greatest tenor and idol of every music lover in the country, coming to the Music Hall this evening with his all star company for one performance of Verdi's 'Il Trovatore.'

Joseph Sheehan needs no introduction, he is universally acknowledged the greatest of all American tenors and his company for the past three years has been proclaimed the foremost opera company in America but this year he has far outdone himself and gratified his ambition of taking only opera entour and making an elaborate production of it. He has selected for this opera the greatest and most popular of modern times, 'Il Trovatore 'and in so doing has struck a responsive chord in public favor.

To those who have heard 'Il Trovatore' the opportunity of hearing the great tenor solo 'Il Quella Pira' sung by the greatest of American tenors, of hearing the world renowned 'Miserrere' in the Tower Scene and a score of other famous numbers will be a welcome treat. To those who have never heard this great opera it will prove a most happy surprise.

No better proof of the hold 'Il Trovatore' has on the public can be given than the fact that those who have heard it once never lose an opportunity o ffdoing so again and again. And to this the fact that probably never before has it been sung in English by such a famous organization of stars and nothing remains to be said.

Mr. Sheehan has selected from his various companies the principals best fitted for the different roles and thereby truly making an all star production.

Further evidnce of the past performances of Frederick Lincoln Warren, alias Winship, who disappeared from this city while agent of the Columbian National Life insurance company has been collected. The evidence shows that Warren was twice before held liable held liable for insurance thefts, that he robbed and deserted his wife and that he has served a state prison term in Denver, Col. The evidence has come from the state's records in two states, from the records of two insurance companies and from detective agencies. Warren has alleged to have hit Portsmouth harder than any other places as the warrants issued for him alleges the embezzlement of about $12,000.

Warren was a native of Middletown Conn. As a young man he became a solicitor of the New England Mutual Life Insurance company. He married a young woman who was an expert stenographer and the two settled down to an apparently happy life shortly after their marriage. Warren disappeared. It is said that he took about $5000 of his wife's money and about an equal amount of the insurance company's funds.

Warren proceeded to Denver, where he became a solicitor for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. It is alleged that he departed from Denver with about $8000 of the company's money. A few days later a Chicago patrolman thought Warren's face resembled that of a picture he saw on the bulletin board so he picked Warren up and brought him to the station, where he was identified. Warren was tried in Denver and sentenced to serve five years in th state prison.

His prison term expired in October, 1908. He went to Boston, presented himself as Frederick Lowell Winship and was given employment as an agent of the Columbian National Life Insurance company. Winship is said to have been the brightest insurance agent in the personnel of the company.
